WILL THE PEOPLE OF DAYTONA ALLOW "BOSS" TO DRIVE OUT THE SALVATION ARMY AND EVANGELISTS?

Daytona has been receiving a most unsavory reputation the past several weeks, due to the attitude assumed by Political Boss Henry T. Titus, in warning away from the city the Salvation Army and an evangelist, who had come to Daytona, one to preach the gospel and one to raise funds for the feeding of destitute and homeless unfortunate.

On Wednesday a representative of the Salvation Army, Jacksonville branch, appeared in Daytona to place Christmas boxes in several public places for a collection with which to feed the poor of the state on Christmas Day, as has been the custom of that organization for many years. Capt. Nelson, the representative, was also prepared to sell copies of the War Cry, the Salvation Army paper, in support of the same fund.

When he had sold a few copies, he was approached by City Commissioner Titus, and told to immediately stop the selling of the War Cry, that the city officials would not allow it. Captain Nelson stated that he had credentials from the head officer at Jacksonville, which Titus demanded to see. When they were produced, Titus told the Salvation Army man that they were no good because he DIDN'T HAVE HIS PICTURE ON THEM!

If there ever was a meritorious organization, always ministering to the down and destitute, it is the Salvation Army.

Captain Nelson has been told by the Daily News that he WILL BE ALLOWED TO SELL the War Cry on the streets of Daytona, that the Daily News will furnish him with the best legal talent to enforce his rights, and the Daily News believes it will be backed by the best people of the city in this attitude.

A week ago Rev. John Fulton, evangelist, traveling the state in a gospel car, stopped on Daytona streets, intending to hold evangelistic services, as he had done in hundreds of cities, without interference. When he attempted to hold services in Daytona, Boss Titus told Rev. Mr. Fulton to move out, that he was not allowed to preach in Daytona. He was invited to Daytona Beach by the city officials there, and as an added compliment, and example of the hospitality of the beach, as compared with the reception he received from city officials here, was invited by S. J. Peabody and the Auditorium committee to hold services last Sunday at that building, which was opened before the regular season, for the services.

Speaking of the treatment he received from the Daytona city officials, Mr. Fulton said, to the Daily News: "Daytona was the first city in which I was ever denied the privilege of preaching the gospel, in many years of such work. But I was not surprised at the tirade your Boss Titus gave me, as I was told by city officials of another Florida city, before I reached here, that I would not be allowed to preach in Daytona, that Titus would stop me, because preachers of the gospel were not welcomed in Daytona, only bootleggers and wiretappers, and that they feared that some erring one of their followers might be converted and lead to tell of the things they know about the city government of Daytona. Such is the reputation Daytona bears in other cities," concluded Mr. Fulton.

The Daily News does not believe the better people of Daytona will countenance the refusal of city officials to allow the Salvation Army to raise funds for the poor at Christmas time. If there is a city law against charity, some people would like to see it.

KU KLX KLAN TAKES A KING CONSTANTINE HAND IN ENFORCEMENT GETS ROYAL SEND OFF OF LAWS IN ANNISTON ON WAY TO GREECE

(United Press.)

ANNISTON, Ala., Dec. 16.—Following a threat against the lives of city officials and Governor Kilby, made in an anonymous letter unless the campaign against vagrants here was stopped, the Ku Klux Klan posted a marker in front of the postoffice here today agreeing that any hostile demonstration would be punished by the Klan. The social club, which was disgraced money, stated that members of the Klan were ready to stand their ground in an effort to uphold the law and enforcement of punishment of criminals.

The most deadly unpredictable crime a person could commit in Virginia is to be a member of the Klan.

VENICE, Dec. 16.—Foreign warships, including an American vessel, paid homage to Constantine of Greece, whom he sailed for Cyprus today aboard the Greek cruiser Areios.

Barrels saluted with twenty-one guns. The American ship was directed out with flags to honor the departing Greek king.

OLD LANDMARK OF DAYTONA CHANGES HANDS; CITY HOTEL BOUGHT BY SUMMER

One of the oldest landmarks of Daytona has changed hands, in the sale of the City Hotel property at 45 Orange avenue, near Palmetto avenue, by H. Dales, to the Theo-Summer Furniture Co. G. M. Summer and A. E. Theo, becoming the new owners of the property, which is most advantageously situated and one of the highest priced properties off Beach street.

The City Hotel was one of the first hotels ever erected in Daytona, and is the oldest standing in point of years today. It has been prominent as a commercial hotel for many years, offering but little to the tourist trade, and retaining a good business the year around.

W. C. Painter, the present owner in possession until May 1, 1921, after which Messrs. Summer and Theo plan considerable improvements, which at this time are not suggested. The resulting of a hotel on the site of considerably greater size may follow the sale of the property when the new owners obtain possession next summer.

The sale of the City Hotel property was made through the real estate firm of R. L. Smith & Co., the amount not being disclosed.

LET'S CHECK THIS TOWN OUR CHILDREN LIVE IN!

"That children may measure a city's class" is the suggestion of Prof. William B. McKeever, of the University of Kansas. McKeever has made welfare work among children in many parts of the country a specialty. Recently he has issued a score card by which a city's standards can be figured, based upon its environments for children.

There are 10 points included in the score card upon which may be judged the town as a place in which to raise children.

Here they are:

Play for children in parks and playgrounds;

Industry, including work classes in the schools, vacation chances for it, and the conditions for juvenile employment;

Schools and the methods of "connecting them up" with the community;

Health, covering nursing, health inspection and hospitals;

Scouting for both boys and girls; Moral safeguards, such as inspection of moving and dance halls;

Sociality, which touches that side of existence known as community life;

Religion, in all its forms;

Service, to include clubs to deal with children's constructive as well as educational problems;

Housing, features of which include its adequacy, sanitation and comfort. Upon that sort of a quiz, how does your town check up?

"MAKE IT SNAPPY"

There are those who believe modern man does things more quickly than his forefathers; that he hustles to the point of action and gets done with what he has to do; that he "makes it snappy." This is not handing our ancestors a fair deal.

While it is true that we move faster from one place to another than great-grandfather moved, we do not think faster, talk faster, nor work faster. We take as much time to say our say, and we do, if anything, say it in more words. We don't for instance, make it as snappy as Caesar, when he "came, saw, and conquered." The old address was "off ag'in, on ag'in, and gone ag'in" in fewer words than the modern reporter tells his story of a railroad wreck.

Just now the English-speaking world is besieged with words telling how 300 years ago, the Pilgrim Fathers came to Plymouth. But on that December day Morris' Journal told the whole story of the finding of the Harbor, the exploration of the nearby land, and the decision to make it their permanent home in 55 words.

We travel from Plymouth, Eng., to Plymouth, Mass., much faster than the Pilgrims did it, but we, on the other hand, waste more words telling about it.

PORT ORANGE

PORT ORANGE, Dec. 16.—Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Nixon and two of Mr. Nixon's brothers and families are located in the Cumming house.

Word from Fred Cummings states that the Cummings will not get to Port Orange this winter.

Mrs. A. G. Fair, the principal of the Port Orange school, is sick with it, it is reported, acute indigestion or ptomaine poisoning. The other teachers are doing their best with the assistance of the more advanced pupils to keep the school up to standard.

Dan Carrow has gone to his father on the west coast.

Aaron Solenberger writes that he is suffering from a severe attack of neuritis and will not be able to come down this winter.

A letter from J. M. Pool states that he has arrived in Pasadena, Cal., in due time, is feeling fine and finds everything going on nicely, but he has not forgotten Port Orange and his many friends here, and expects to be in Port Orange before spring.

Mrs. Fred Figge was not physically able to act as S. S. superintendent on Sunday last and Rev. Fithian alone conducted the school. There were 91 present at the exercises.

The first frost of any amount this season was in evidence this morning but only on roofs or dry grass.

Mr. and Mrs. Banks came yesterday and are located in the old Fowler place on Rose Bay, that Mr. Banks purchased some years since.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin have rooms at A. M. Martins:

TODAY

United States would be the greatest menace to all white races and to British colonies first of all.

England knows well, what Japan should know, that this country builds no battleships for attack. We have had our warning in the late war—paid about forty billions directly and a hundred billions indirectly for the knowledge that only a fool nation exists without adequate shipping, or depending on the good will of other nations.

We keep Japanese colonization out, and that won't change. It is fortunate for the Japanese immigrants that we do. Periods of unemployment would mean periods in which the lives of Japanese workers would be unsafe and worse than unsafe. That may mean that we are white barbarians—but at least we are moderately intelligent.

Now the English-speaking world is besieged with words telling how 300 years ago, the Pilgrim Fathers came to Plymouth. But on that December day Morris' Journal told the whole story of the finding of the Harbor, the exploration of the nearby land, and the decision to make it their permanent home in 55 words.

ALLANDALE, Dec. 16.—Ye Allendale Inn will open on Dec. 24 and on Christmas day will serve Christmas dinner. A number of tables are already reserved. The inn has been renovated and made most attractive for the new management. A number of reservations have been made for the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brewer and Mrs. Brewer's mother Mrs. C. Rohrer of Somonauk, Ill., arrived and are located with Dr. Ernest Suppes on Katherine street.

At the library building there was held on Tuesday evening a most enjoyable affair, the celebration of four events occurring during the month of December. First the birthday of Mrs. J. H. Mowes which comes on Dec. 21, that of Mrs. Cornelius Christianity on Dec. 26, the anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Rickman and last the fifth anniversary of the organization of the Allendale Improvement association. The evening was spent with speech making, music and cards. Pumpkin pie and coffee were served during the evening and ferring from it and was directed by his impossibly voted the event a perfect success especially Mrs. Christianity's brief history of the association. A formal celebration of the association will be held some time in January.

The Sunday evening services are well attended and Mr. Fithian's talks are very helpful.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold have arrived at Asheville, N. C., where they expect to remain until some time in January on account of Mr. Arnold having had a severe attack of hay fever before they left New York and is still suffering, all Allendale people, unanxious to try mountain air for a short time.

The Allendale Improvement association hold their regular semi-monthly meeting on Monday evening Dec. 20 and a full attendance of members are requested as business of interest to all will be brought up.

The regular meeting of the Peninsula Club is postponed until Friday, December 17th, at the usual time at the clubhouse. This is the Christmas meeting at which time each lady is asked to bring the dollar earned for a special offering to the building fund.

lgent barbarians and mean to avoid temptation.

Viscount Ishii, instead of competing in battleship building with the United States should compete in more civilized lines of endeavor, compete in friendship.

Let the Japanese admit that this is our country—we ask only that, and we are going to have it. Then there will be no beautiful peace, and Japan instead of wasting money she can't afford competing with us, will have her resources for the development of Asia and for the pacification of her own people that soon will be Japan's chief problem.

"A girl standing under a piece of mistletoe at Christmastime may be kissed by any man who finds her there. If she be kissed seven times in one day, she will marry one of the lucky fellows within a year," says I, reading the above out of last year's almanac.

"I don't see how they figure it out that he'd be one of the lucky fellows! seems to me the other six would be the lucky guys," says Si.

"There is no better time to become engaged than on Christmas eve," says I, continuing with my reading.

"Of course there isn't," says Si, "but that isn't knocking the other even-

"A child born on Christmas Day," says I, "will be free from care."

"Yes, but about the grown-up persons born that day?" says Si.

How long do you suppose Santa Claus would be one of the leading citizens in this community if he paid much attention to Ben Franklin's thrifty advice?

"Carrying a human molar tooth," says I, "is often considered a remedy for toothache."

"Not, though, at times," says Si, "when it's carried on the jaw."

"Wearing the left sock inside out is a good antidote to a witch's power," says I.

"Mobbe so," says Si, "but wearing 'em both inside out proves he didn't try to grab the extra snooze after the larm blinged at 6 a. m."

What with the very short skirt Santa Claus no longer considers it a rare treat to lamp a line-up of silken hosiery on Christmas eve.

Father may not relish the wear of Christmas ties mother hands him no more than she likes the hue of the stockings he buys for her.

A Rochester (N. Y.) woman tells this year's-best Christmas story:

"For seven of the last 14 years I have been sending the same box of handkerchiefs to a friend, who, the other seven years has sent them back to me, thus getting 14 Christmas gifts out of them, and I'm expecting them back Christmas eve."

BETTER RURAL SCHOOL DAY AT PENINSULA SCHOOL, JAN. 21

It has been decided that Friday, January 21, will be a memorable one in the school life of Volusia county. It will be known as "Better Rural School Day" and it will be most appropriately celebrated by men and women prominent in the educational work of the city, county, state and nation.

There will be a general parade of all persons here interested in school work and school patrons will be urged to participate. Secretary Robert S. Holmes is in receipt of the following self-explanatory letter from Commissioner of Education, C. P. Sheppard from Deland:

Dear Mr. Holmes:

I am in receipt of a letter from J. L. McBrien, director of Rural School Extension, stating that Commissioner of Education P. P. Clayton has authorized the holding of a conference on rural education in Daytona January 21 to 24, both days inclusive.

Permit me to congratulate you and your associates upon the success you have attained in this matter and to assure you that I stand ready and anxious to co-operate to make the meeting one of the largest and best ever known in the South.

Commissioner Clayton and Mr. McBrien suggest that Friday, January 21, be designated as "Better Rural School Day," and that a fitting and appropriate celebration be staged at that time. I shall want to confer with you relative to this matter at a very early date, as Mr. McBrien has asked that I take hold of this feature of the program. My plans now are to have as many, all if possible, of the teachers in the county in attendance with their pupils and put on a big parade about 2 o'clock p.m. If this is done we shall want the local citizens to co-operate and take part in the parade. I shall also make an effort to secure the attendance of the State Educational Board and the various state employees working under that board as well as the superintendents of the various committees in Florida.

I expect to be in Daytona in a few days, to spend several days and nights, at which time I hope it will be possible for me to be you for an hour. Yours cordially, (Signed) C. P. M. SHEPPARD, County Superintendent.

New Fire Truck at Daytona Beach Is Fully Demonstrated

W. B. Bell of Elmira, N. Y., expert demonstrator for the American-LaFrance fire department machinery company, arrived Tuesday, and Wednesday afternoon, in connection with Fire Chief W. E. French, gave a public exhibition of the possibilities of Daytona Beach's new fire department.

The new machine was unloaded from the car and brought over from Daytona, under the supervision of Mr. Bell during the forenoon. It appeared to be in perfect condition. It is known as type ten, triple combination and is said to be three complete fire fighting machines in one—hose wagon, chemical engine and pumping engine. It has a capacity of six hundred gallons per minute on three different streams. It has the same force whether it is taking water from a hydrant or whether it is being pumped from a pool, stream or other natural body of water.

Four men are required to completely operate this machine, whereas seven and eight men are required to operate a horse drawn apparatus with the same capacity. This new equipment Daytona Beach now has to fight fire will result in reducing your fire insurance here at least 20 per cent, said Mr. Bell in discussing the merits and possibilities of the new apparatus. With the electric alarm system that is to be put in this town will have very excellent protection. From now on when a fire box is pulled the engine company will promptly respond.

For the purpose of co-operating with Chief French and assisting him in breaking in some of his assistants and getting them familiar with the new fire fighter, Mr. Bell will remain here for several days. He wants those who are to handle it to know about it before he leaves them to their own resources. While here he will be a guest of the Seaside Inn.

Those who witnessed the demonstration, Mayor Nixon, the members of the council, water works officials, many business men and property owners, all seemed fully satisfied that the new machine would meet requirements and make good.

"Red Riding Hood" Chosen for the Grand

One more of the leading characters for the operetta, "The Long Voyage," to be given at the Auditorium on December 21st and January 6th, has been chosen after looking over a large group of eligible.

Miss Jean MacKenzie will assume the role of Red Riding Hood.

Miss MacKenzie is the daughter of Charles A. MacKenzie, whose summer home is in Durbin, Mich., where he is in the life insurance business. He and his family have been spending winters here, and are located in a winter home in a very pleasant bungalow near the ocean front near the Chamber hotel.

Miss MacKenzie has had parts in three productions a half dozen times before having assisted Mrs. Reynolds, the director, every time she put the play on at Winona Lake. She is very familiar with the piece and has always acquitted herself admirably in various positions in the cast. This will be her first time to play Red Riding Hood. She has also been of great assistance to Mrs. Reynolds here in getting interested others who are to take part in the play. She has been unable to exert efforts to make the affair a complete success, for which she has the hearty thanks of all interested in the Florida Assembly and Poem.

Mrs. Reynolds continues to be encouraged in the progress of her efforts here.

MICHIGAN ATTORNEY MUCH

PREFERS DAYTONA BEACH

Attorney N. C. Water of Macomb, Mich., who with his family are located at 112 Orange Avenue, here just returned from a couple of weeks auto trip, visiting Indian, Okeechobee, Lakewood, Clewiston, Tampa, St. Petersburg and other interesting resorts.

Mr. Water says all of these places have their attractions, but he has no place that suited him so well as Daytona Beach. When I went to the surf bathing and I came up to that beach, and this is why I have been here ever since, and this is why I have been coming here for several winters.

Mr. Water says there are many tourists in Tampa and St. Petersburg, but they are of the class staying at leading houses or expensive apartments and that there are very few people staying at the hotels.

Fires by D.A.R. in Orlando

Perhaps the most famous and the best known Christmas story is the one which Thomas wrote down about a century ago, and which he entitled "A Christmas Carol." Old Scrooge the miser; the three ghosts who appear to him and conduct him to Christmas scenes past, present and to come; Bob Cratchit and Tiny Tim—the pretty nurse and the cheerful nephew; all are characters in the story never to be forgotten once their acquaintance is made.

Rev. H. Stratton Seeling will give a reading of this story on Monday night December 29 in the Methodist Episcopal church on the corner of Palmetto and Bay. It will be given in four parts with musical numbers interspersed, and will provide a whole evening's entertainment.

Mr. Seeling is a reader and speaker of wide and varied experience, and is perhaps at his best in depicting scenes of dramatic intensity like those contained in "A Christmas Carol."

ORMOND

ORMOND, Dec. 15—D. Groom was off duty on Ormond Bridge recently for several days. He went north to meet his brother, enroute for England.

We learn that Mr. Carr, recently of Ormond and who went to Oklahoma, has died after a long illness. The sympathy of many friends is extended to his wife.

The Lindsay family are again here from Rochester, N. Y., and are occupying their residence on the river front.

Many will be glad to know that the Daytona Daily News from this time on through the season will be on sale at the lunch room, also will be delivered by carrier to patrons.

Dr. Richmond was called in haste to the bedside of his son in Kinsville, Wm., hence Mr. Fink of the house missionary board officiated both morning and evening at the Union church last Sunday.

The mercury stood at 38 this a.m. and light frost was reported in some places.

Okeechobee Coach Added to F.E.C. Ry. Service Southward

A through coach between Jacksonville and Okeechobee over the Florida East Coast railroad was placed in operation yesterday, opening a new type of service to a section which previously has not enjoyed the best transportation facilities. The coach will be attached southbound to Florida East Coast railway train No. 25 and northbound it will come out on train No. 36, arriving in Jacksonville at 7:30 p. m. daily.

The operation of this service is made possible by the recent increase in travel over the Okeechobee branch of the Florida East Coast railway, according to J. D. Rahner, general passenger agent. This branch leaves the main line at New Smyrna and serves a territory which is opening rapidly to agriculture and colonization. Northbound passengers will leave Okeechobee at 8:30 a. m. The through coach on its southbound movement will arrive there at 9:40 p. m. daily.

"Volusia the Vermont" so named by the Florida Growers and so called by eminent agricultural and horticultural writers, and rightly so, for no other county of Florida or the entire south can or does produce such an infinite variety of farm products, fruits, etc., and not only does Volusia produce a variety but a great quantity and better still, she produces "the best" when quality is considered, for at the last exhibit, in hot competition with other counties, Volusia was awarded the highest premiums on the following products of her productive soil and energetic people:

Sweet-potatoes, Irish potatoes, extracted honey, ruby blood oranges, tangerines, pineapple oranges, "silver cluster" grapefruit, king oranges, naval oranges, Parson Brown oranges, sunquats, corn, cotton, black walnuts, ice-eggs, corn meal, vinegar, sugar, popcorn, feed meal, hard woods, mineral water, Chayotes, broom corn, crab grass hay, whip-poor-will pens, asparagus fern, New Guinea butter beans, pumpkins, rice, squash, pecans, sugar cane, canned vegetables, eggs, cane syrup, shufas, peanuts, Velvet beans, pearl millet, and in addition prizes received for poultry and live stock.

This year greater still will be her winnings for the exhibit committee appointed by the commissioners are already on the job and in addition two agricultural and horticultural organizations have been formed in Volusia the past summer, namely the "Farm Community Councils and Bureaus of Home Economics" at Daytona and DeLand, whose co-operation will mean the overwhelming success of the exhibit.

The personnel of the exhibit committee is as follows: E. W. Brown, chairman, DeLand; S. B. Crosby, Daytona; Fred Nordman, Ormond; R. B. Ropdy, New Smyrna; W. E. Dunaway, DeLand.

Community chairman: Ray Selden, Daytona Beach; George Fullerton, Oak Hill; J. L. Pattiello, Port Orange; W. E. Bunn, Enterprise; F. N. Burt, DeLeon Springs; Clyde Lemmon, Barberville; J. E. Cade, Seville; E. G. Blake, Lake Helen; W. Warner, Orange City.

When the exhibit manager recently met with the Orange County Fair association officials, he was shown every courtesy, and assured the best possible location and all space required for the exhibit; in fact the Volusia exhibit of last season was so pleasing to the officials from every point of view, completeness, educational variety, attractiveness of arrangements, etc., that they have laid aside their own and their county's interest until the extent of Volusia's exhibit can be determined and sufficient space reserved, for same.

We now come to the paramount point, to-wit:

"Every farmer, fruit grower, gardener, home gardener, florist and others who own, raise or manufacture a product or article eligible for exhibition should acquaint the nearest member of the committee with this knowledge and offer the same for exhibit at Orlando."

The committee will furnish you with tags for your return address, will pay transportation both ways and turn over to you your cash prizes, ribbons, etc.

It will cost you nothing. The probabilities are you will win a prize and at any rate, you will help Volusia preserve her reputation and place at the head of Florida counties. As everyone knows, Volusia's politics are in a class by themselves. Last year we put Volusia in a class by herself as regards agricultural and horticultural products by exhibiting same. This year we will make the corn-belt farmers lose their teeth, as far as grape will keep their mouths fly at the sight of Volusia's oranges, corn, taters, peanuts, etc.

We don't know whether you are worth a million or not, but you will surely like it if you win the blue and join the committee in singing "We did it," when the judges announce, "Volusia is awarded First Prize County Exhibit."

Say, confidentially, "We're goin' to have a Volusia Day this year, too."

Parsons has received a notable distinction through the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, in the tercentenary celebration of the landing of the Pilgrims, a program of which will be given at the New Daytona theatre next Tuesday evening, December 21.

The program will consist of a lecture, written by Dr. Wilder Fairbanks and the showing of most wonderful pictures on the screen, from views by Dr. Fairbanks and Peter McQueen, the well known chautauqua lecturer.

This series of pictures were taken first in England, from where the Pilgrims embarked to Holland, also pictures of the neighborhood where the religious band lived in that country, and pictures showing the landing at Plymouth, depicting the life of the pilgrims in this country 300 years ago.

The celebration of the 300th anniversary of the landing of the Pilgrims by the reading of the lecture, and displaying of views will be held at the same date and time in only two cities in the United States, Plymouth, Mass., and in Daytona, a feature of the services greatly appreciated by the ladies of the D. A. R. who were fortunate in securing the views and lecture at this time.

The story of the Pilgrims, of their struggles for religious freedom, of their hardships and accomplishments is a story which can bear repeating many times over and never grows old. The celebration in Daytona will be one of the high lights of the D. A. R. program of the winter season.

Wise and Foolish Virgins Subject of Great Sermon

The auditorium of the First Baptist church was well filled last evening to hear Evangelist Thiot preach upon the most interesting subject of the "Five Wise and Five Foolish Virgins." He said in introducing the subject that were he to name this story over he would call it the parable of disappointments. During the preaching of the sermon he outlined these disappointments as they appeared to him. These were the common disappointments of everyday folk, like men of today who were making an effort to get into the Kingdom of God by some other route than the God prescribed one as laid down in the Bible. A deep interest was manifest on the part of the audience as they listened with intense attention. Prof. Jelks sang just before the sermon that wonderful hymn, "Is it Nothing to You?" in a most impressive manner. He has a splendid voice and so well adapted to this particular class of work. The "Sunshine" choir were present with fully fifty members and added to the musical part of the service. The meetings will continue each night except Saturday at 7:30 o'clock. The story hour for the boys and girls is held in the Sunday school building every evening at 7 o'clock and Prof. Jelks is a wonderful storyteller.

in Jail Passing of Capt. Neil Tanner, who has been about Daytona Beach for some time, is now lodged in the Orlando jail, on a charge of passing a worthless check, the Ideal Garage of Daytona Beach being the losers of the amount of $100 on the check.

Tanner came here recently from Deland, where he was a salesman with the Triangle Garage. He brought a Chevrolet car and truck to the Triple Cities with him, and is reported to have sold the truck to a Daytona negro. He kept the car in the Ideal Garage, and when he became aware of his worthlessness.

Early this week Lyons, John Wood and J. P. Andrews, aviators, drove to the beach from Jacksonville. Tanner was acquainted with them, and when they flew to Orlando yesterday, he went with them. After he landed in Orlando he was arrested on information furnished the officers of that city by Daytona Beach officials, and was taken in jail. Mr. Briggs, of the Deland garage coming to the beach and obtaining the car left here. It is not known where Tanner will be given a hearing, as yet.
